

July 18, 2017

Increase Your Knowledge Through NIRI

The Investor Relations Charter (IRC™) certifies IR competencies across key disciplines including finance, strategy, and communications. Why earn the IRC credential? Here are testimonials from current credential holders. Friday, July 28, is the final IRC application exam deadline in 2017, so submit your application now to take the exam during the September 9-16 testing window.

NIRI September IR seminars in Boston include the highly-rated Fundamentals of IR, Best in Class Investor Presentations and Investor Days, and Writing Workshop for IR.

November NIRI seminars on finance and capital markets take place in New York: Finance 101: Introduction to Capital Markets & Finance Fundamentals and Finance Essentials: Capital Structure, Accounting, Financial Analysis and Corporate Valuation.

NIRI's Senior Roundtable offers senior-level IR professionals a unique forum to connect and learn. This year's SRT meeting takes place November 29-December 1 at the Montage in Laguna Beach, CA. For more information on joining the Senior Roundtable, please click here.

NIRI members receive a €100 discount at the IR Magazine Global Forum Conference in October in Paris; please use discount code NIRIGIRF when registering for this education event.

Finally, do you have a colleague who is a NIRI member who could effectively represent you and the IR profession on the National Board of Directors? We're seeking nominations to serve on the Board from 2018-2021. Please click here for more information and to access the nomination form.

All the best,
Mike

Michael C. McGough, CAE

Chief Membership Officer
National Investor Relations Institute
mmcgough@niri.org